BULLETIN

1922 - 1923

135 ST. CLAIR AVENUE WEST
TORONTO - ONTARIO

Bible readings, addresses, etc. They are taught the use of illustrations and are given advice as to the best methods of preparing themselves for speaking in public. Practical work is employed from time to time. Ten lectures.

PERSONAL EVANGELISM

The Principal

The importance of personal work. The training class, its organization and conduct. Incentives, qualifications, hindrances and follow-up methods. The use of the Bible with men. Notable personal workers. Successful Scripture examples. Twenty lectures.

PUBLIC PRAYER

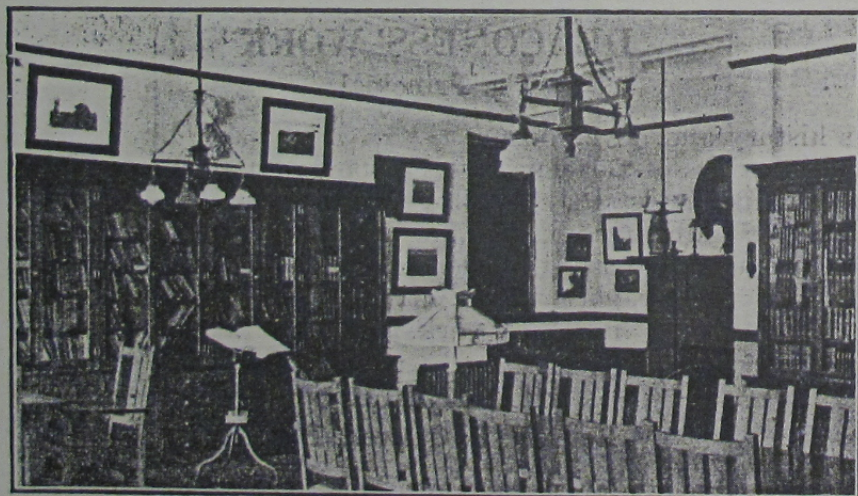

The Principal

The course deals with: The Nature of Prayer, The Relation of Prayer to Spiritual Life and to the Power of Personality. The conditions of effectual prayer, its formal principles, structure, language, variety, etc. Methods of preparation and training. How to learn to lead in prayer. Mistakes in prayer—How to avoid ruts in thought and in expression. Five lectures.

HYMNOLOGY

Rev. A. C. Crews, D.D.

The course in Hymnology includes a study of the development of hymns in the history of the Christian Church, biographies of noted hymn writers, history of the use of children's hymns and gospel songs—and a short history of hymn tunes. Five lectures.

A Cosy Nook in the Library

THE CONDUCT OF RELIGIOUS MEETINGS

The Principal

The course comprises a consideration of the contribution of personality, the effects of physical surroundings, such as light and temperature, the choice of hymns, Scripture Reading, public prayer, and the development of a worshipful atmosphere. Five lectures.

CHURCH ORGANIZATION AND DISCIPLINE

The Principal

The course leads the student to understand the policy and distinguishing features of the government of the Methodist Church, emphasis being placed on those organizations with which a worker is more likely to be related when in active work. Ten lectures.

BUSINESS METHODS

Lectures by Church Secretaries.

Office records, charts, card indexes; the methods of Church book-keeping and reporting of financial affairs. Church advertising.

ART OF EXPRESSION

Under the direction of Mrs. Emma Scott Nasmith, F.G.M.

The Margaret Eaton School of Literature and Expression has been arranged to provide a course of study in voice culture, public speaking and platform deportment. These studies supplement one another and aim at the development of the whole being of the student—physical, mental and moral. Sixty hours.

PRACTICAL ENGLISH

Mrs. Georgie A. Clark, B.A.

By a detailed study of the sentence and its component parts, by a consideration under the different headings of case, number, etc., of the laws of syntax and their use in the correction of frequently-heard solecisms, the attempt is made in this course to lead the students to understand and practically apply the rules of English grammar to their own speech and written work. Thirty lectures.

SIGHT SINGING AND CHORUS

Mr. E. R. Bowles.

Voice production, breath control, interpretation, pronunciation, and enunciation.

Opportunity to gain proficiency in sight reading and part singing. Drill in Processionals. Hymn singing.

Emphasis is placed on ease and naturalness—and the proper rendition of songs. The course will be adapted to the need of the individual and to the work expected to be done. There are many opportunities for capable pupils to sing before the School. Thirty lectures.

MUSIC FOR ADVANCED PUPILS

(Private Lessons. Inquire for Terms).

Arrangements have been made with Mr. E. R. Bowles, Organist and Conductor of Westminster Presbyterian Church Choir, Conductor of Victoria College Glee Club, to give expert advice and advanced tuition, if desired, in piano, pipe organ and vocal work. A letter addressed to Mr. Bowles, care of the School, will bring all information as to terms for such private instruction. A few of our students have taken a limited number of lectures with us, and thus, while enjoying the religious atmosphere of our home life, have been able to pursue advanced studies in piano, organ, violin and voice production. It will be necessary for those contemplating such a course of action to consult us early as to whether accommodation is available. We have several pianos at the disposal of students during practice hours. A charge of 5c. per hour will be made for the use of a piano.

PHYSICAL CULTURE

Miss Ardith Hull.

Correct standing and walking, breathing, marching, calisthenics, military drill, free-hand exercises, rhythmic work, bells, clubs, wands and games. Daily exercise is required of every student.

This course is intended to be of special interest to Social Workers, as it embraces games and entertainment suitable for all ages, as well as for special conditions. These games are practical in that they may be played either outdoors or inside, and with or without equipment. Students are required to participate in the School gymnasium and be able to lead or teach the same. Play as a means of expression and social development has a recognized value and is an effective means of reaching those who cannot otherwise be touched. Ten lectures.

Students who desire to be excused from gymnasium work must have their home physician write to the Principal stating plainly the cause of disability. Thirty hours with class test.

"Man is not really man until he plays."—Schiller.

"Health and cheerfulness naturally beget each other."—Addison.

"For performance of great work it requires extraordinary health."—Emerson.

"The weaker the body the more it commands; the stronger it is, the more it obeys."—Rousseau.

DEPORTMENT

Mrs. Georgie A. Clark, B.A.

A number of lectures are given on conduct in the home, in the school, and in society. They include table manners, calls, dress, correspondence and general deportment.

ENGLISH COMPOSITION

Mrs. Georgie A. Clark, B.A.

This course includes a study of sentence-structure and the characteristics of good diction, lessons in the principles of correct punctuation, practice in the art of letter-writing in its various branches, and a study of models in narrative, descriptive and expository com-

A Parlor

TO THE
